22 Game MSC Schedule Is Announced

A 22 game schedule for the Murray State Thoroughbred was announced today by Athletic Director Roy Stewart. The major college schedule, against the top competition of the nation, features 12 home appearances and 10 on the road for the Racers.

Also on tap for the Racers are two tournaments, the Kentucky Invitational and the Ohio Valley Conference, both in Louisville.

Last year the Racers, playing their first major schedule, broke even over the regular season against the toughest opposition in the land. This year's schedule is some more of the same thing, except it has been shortened.

Included are the traditional home and home encounters with all OVC opponents, Western Kentucky, Eastern Kentucky, Morehead State, Middle Tennessee and Tennessee Tech.

Home fans will also see in the Murray gym Brigham Young, Dayton, Houston, Oklahoma City and Texas Western.

Single road games will be played against Xavier in Cincinnati and Villanova in Philadelphia, and the Racers will also play Oklahoma City in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Home and home affairs with Kentucky Wesleyan and Memphis State complete the regular schedule. In addition to Murray State, the University of Louisville, Western Kentucky and Eastern Kentucky are to participate in the Kentucky Invitational December 27 and 28. No out of state teams will participate this year.

"Angel On a Bien Phu" Describes Ordeal Under Fire

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — Nurse Genevieve de Galard-Terrauze, "Angel of Dien Bien Phu," today described her ordeal under fire after she spurned comforts offered by Communist conquerors of the Indochinese fortress.

After a refreshing night's sleep, Genevieve went to a beauty parlor for a new hairdo and then faced the world press.

In proud but simple terms she told how she tended the wounded of the doomed fortress in darkness after the electricity failed in the damp, underground shelter that served as a hospital.

The nurse, who was the only woman at Dien Bien Phu through its terrible siege and fall, said she was blinded by the daylight when she walked into the open for the first time after the Communists had conquered the heroic defenders of the fort.

She said the Reds knew, before they found her in the rubble of the shell battered bastion, that there was a woman in Dien Bien Phu. They had announced, before she was captured, that she would receive good treatment, she said.

The Reds offered to quarter her in a tent with Communist Viet Minh women nurses and medical students, Genevieve said.

But the gallant Frenchwoman spurned the Communist offer and told the Reds she preferred to remain with the wounded and to care for them as best she could until they were delivered from the hell of Dien Bien Phu.

Her voice faltered, and she said, "I actually could not do much but smile at them, and take messages for their families and friends."

After her release, she began at once on the "hours of work" which she said were necessary to write letters for the men she had finally left behind on the steaming damp cot and mats in the ruins of Dien Bien Phu.

Dressed in her royal blue air force nurse's uniform, Genevieve told the crowded press conference how some of the wounded were almost "blinded by the light" when they finally were carried into the open air after weeks in the underground shelter.

During the final days of the bitter fighting, she said, she crouched with the wounded in the hot shelter, listening to the sound of battle raging above.

All of them, she said, knew that the fortress was lost when the main command post toward the French stronghold to fall.

It was then, she said, that the Communists announced the wounded could be carried out and placed in a hastily arranged tent city.

The newsman who asked her to question the "Angel," but he said he heard her talking to Prof. Pierre Huard, organizer of the mercy airlift of the wounded, while flying from Luang Prabang to Hanoi.

Genevieve, who wanted to remain at Dien Bien Phu until the last wounded defender was evacuated, returned to freedom Monday, appearing pale and thin but smiling warmly.

The newsman said Genevieve told Huard that the khaki-clad soldier who entered the dugout and those who trooped in later acted with extreme respect.

She said that at all times between the day Dien Bien Phu fell, on May 7, and the time she flew to Luang Prabang she had been given every opportunity to aid and comfort the French Union wounded.

Dien Bien Phu fell on a Friday. On the following Sunday morning two rebel women entered Genevieve's tent. One wore the emblem of the Communist Red Cross. The other was dressed in a flowing gown on which appeared a portrait of the late Josef Stalin.

Shortly before the women arrived, the 29 year old heroines of Dien Bien Phu received a letter from her chief, North Front Air Commander Gen. Jean Dechaux, ordering her to Hanoi.

In a rare act of mercy, the Reds, under instructions from Red Chief Hoi Chih Minh, had promised the French to free her but she remained behind voluntarily until receiving the direct order.

The woman in the long gown told Genevieve she was president of the Communist Viet Minh Union of Women, which had petitioned Ho for the brave nurse's release.

Both rebel women attempted to propagandize Genevieve, as they escorted her to the airstrip for her flight to Luang Prabang.

"The imperialist war is a lost war," they told her. "Our troops are at the gates of Hanoi. We are the army of the people."

County Will Receive $3966 From TVA

State, counties, and municipalities in the TVA power service area will receive approximately $3,966,000 as taxes or in lieu of taxes during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1954, TVA announced today.

Payments to states and counties by TVA will aggregate $3,578,000, and payments to state and local governments by the municipal and cooperative power distributors are estimated at about $539,000.

The combined payments by TVA and the distributors will be over $3,740,000 more than the former property taxes on all reservoir lands and on all privately owned power properties acquired by TVA and distributing agencies.

The TVA payments to the seven Tennessee Valley states and 135 counties, amounting to $3,578,000, represent an increase of $100,558 over the payments for the 1953 fiscal year, and $2,242,675 more than the minimum payments required by the property tax replacement provision of the TVA Act.

The TVA payments have been made each month during the current fiscal year, which started last July 1, on the basis of a preliminary schedule, and adjustments will be made where necessary in remittances for May and June so that the sum of the 12 payments during the year will equal the amounts finally determined to be payable to each of the states and counties.

Nearly a third of the total TVA payments in the 1954 fiscal year will go to 135 county governments with the remainder going to state governments.

The amounts to be paid to Kentucky and Calloway County follows: Kentucky, $397,772; Calloway county, $396,119.

Paducah Bank Robbed Today

PADUCAH (AP) — Two bandits, one carrying a pistol and the other a sawed off shotgun, held up two cashiers at a branch of the People's Bank here today and took at least $5,000.

Officials of the bank were still checking, but they estimated the loss at $5,000.

The two cashiers, Mrs. Dorothy Bundy, and Beatty Murphy, said they were counting money when the two masked men whom they had never seen before entered and pointed the weapons in their faces.

They were ordered to lie on the floor and told to be quiet "and you won't get hurt." After they heard the getaway car take off, the cashiers called the police.

Some bystanders said they saw a light gray 1951 Ford drive off from in front of the bank at about the time it was robbed. No license number was taken by anyone, however.

The cashiers described one of the men as about 50, five feet 10, weighing about 200 pounds. He wore khaki work clothes. His companion was described as about 35, the same height, weighing about 140. He wore blue work clothes. Both had on hats and gray gloves.

Winners of last week's prizes at the local A&P store were as follows: Friday, basket of groceries, Mrs. Ruth Cavitt, Eleanor Lee Hudspeth; kitchen clock, Gaylon McBride.

Prizes have been given at the local store for the past two weeks. Windsor Tripp is manager of the store.

Dr. Benjamin Addresses MSC Graduates

Dr. Harold Benjamin, professor of education at Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee, told a graduating class of 225 at Murray State College last night that he was unable to understand the fear of communism in this country when it must be pitted against the American free way of life that will not permit tyranny over the mind of man.

In a brief address at the college's thirty first commencement he touched concisely on three levels of scholarship which he defined as (1) teaching facts and skills to our young people; (2) understanding and consideration of social, economic and political structures and powers; and (3) acquisition of insight, ideals and fighting faith.

This third level, the speaker pointed out as the greatest of all objectives of scholarship and stated that it is limited only by the courage of those who aspire to the top.

The third level of scholarship, Dr. Benjamin said, is the target of anti-intellectualism in this nation and those who belittle the old time belief in the American educational system that puts such a premium on higher education.

In the exercises will not receive their degrees until the end of the summer term at the college.

In addition to the college graduates, 29 seniors from the Training School received diplomas and 31 nursing education students were introduced and will receive their diplomas this summer.

The degrees were awarded by Dr. Ralph H. Woods, MSC president in an impressive ceremony before more than a thousand friends and relatives of the graduates.

Dr. and Mrs. Hubbard Are Guests Here

They spent the week end on the Murray State College campus as guests of President and Mrs. Ralph H. Woods in their home. They attended the alumni banquet on Saturday evening.

Dr. Hubbard delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the 150 graduates on Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m.

State Would Up Present Tax Assessment By 35 Per Cent

A blanket increase in the property tax assessments in Calloway County has been tentatively made by the State Tax Commission, according to a United Press release today, and County Tax Commissioner Robert Young.

The blanket increase would be a 35 percent increase, and would be aimed toward bringing assessments up to 30 per cent of the fair market value.

The increase applies both to town lots and farm and acreage. The current ratio of assessments to the fair market value amounts to 22.8 per cent for town lots and 23.3 per cent for farms and acreage, according to the State Tax Commission.

County Tax Commissioner Robert Young said that this ratio was not based on the 1954 assessment, but on the 1953 assessment. He said that the State Tax Commission did not want to use the later assessment.

An effort is being made to bring the ratio between assessment and fair market value up to 30 per cent, he said. According to his figures, he said, the ratio is now 27 per cent and not 22.8 as the State Tax Commission has indicated.

According to his figures the increase would be one of about three points instead of the State figure of 7.2 points.

In order to reach the state goal of 30 per cent, assessments in the county will be increased 35 per cent of the present assessment.

Young told a Ledger and Times reporter this morning that he will protest the ruling of the State Tax Commission, both to the Commission and through the courts.

He said that he considered the blanket increase unfair to the tax payers of Calloway County, and that he will protest on the first, and that it will only make matters worse.

As it stands now, Young said, there is much inequality in tax assessments. He said that he is trying to work out this inequality worked out during the past year, since he took office.

Most of the people in Murray and Calloway County who have new homes, are assessed correctly, he intimated.

It is grossly unfair to them, he said, to levy a blanket increase on them or anyone else correctly assessed, when they are already meeting the proposed goal of the State Tax Commission.

A hearing will be held on June 4 in Frankfort, by the Commission.

Commission today tentatively increased property tax assessments in three additional counties—Adair, Fulton and Grayson.

It ordered a 15 per cent increase on lots in Adair County, and increase of 30 per cent on lots in Grayson County, and a 10 per cent raise on both lots and farm acreage in Fulton County.

Hearings on the action are scheduled for June 4 here.

The increases are a part of the Tax Commission's effort to bring property assessments in all counties up to a minimum floor of 31 per cent of the property's fair cash value.

Others Increased

Assessments in eight other counties were tentatively increased by the commission yesterday.

Adair, Jessamine, Martin, Montgomery, Simpson, Whitley and Woodford.

The assessments of Graves and Clark counties were given final approval without change.

COMMENCEMENT 1954

There has never been a class of high school graduates who faced a more uncertain future than the class of 1954 but there has likewise never been a class which had better prospects for the future. Nor one with greater opportunities for service.

We are entering a new era, something like the New Deal of twenty years ago, except that enterprise, rather than security, will be the dominating influence in the next generation.

There is no desire to do away with the New Deal social program, of course. As a matter of fact it is being extended, simplified and stripped of as much corruption and graft as possible.

It is easy to see, however, that if the people continue the present regime in power enterprise will be featured more than security. And enterprise, not security, is what made this the greatest nation on earth.

It has been a long time since parents and friends of graduates advised them that their greatest opportunity would come through self-employment, but we believe that is true of the class now graduating.

Society is now clamoring for new services of various types and nothing has ever been found as a satisfactory substitute for youth in the world of commerce, industry and in the professions.

There has never been a time that presented better opportunities for the self-employed, the fellow who wants to go into business for himself. And those who are weak-kneed might see what the leaders in industry and commerce are doing.

General Motors is investing a billion dollars in expansions and improvements. Contracts are being let every day for every type of public works. And in addition more money is being invested in new business, in construction and in goods and services.

We realize there has been a tendency in the last twenty years to escape responsibilities one has to assume in business for himself. But the reward for those who are willing to assume them is far greater than ever before.

United Press Sports Writer

SPRINGFIELD, N.J., May 23, (U.P.)

An "upset pro" and an "upset course" are ready today for the U.S. Open hopefuls and maybe somebody else besides Ben Hogan will win the world series of golf next month.

The site is the Baltusrol Golf Club and it is noted for its upsets in national tournaments as it gets ready for the big show June 17-19. The host pro is Johnny Farrell, and it's still a part of golf's long-shot legend how he beat Bobby Jones in the 1928 playoff.

It may be a prophetic parlay—and remember this is the course where Hogan played his first U.S. Open in 1928 and failed to qualify for the last two rounds.

Hogan has changed quite some since then, of course, as he shoots for a record in the Open. But the course has, too. Robert Trent Jones, the noted golf architect, took care of that in recent months and the howls are going to approach.

Back in 1928, George Von Elm upset Bobby Jones for the amateur crown at Baltusrol, and in 1946 quiet, almost ignored, Ted Bishop defeated confident Smiley Quick.

But it's even tougher now that Jones has finished with his slide rifle and bulldozers. Farrell labels the fourth and 17th the toughest—calling the latter a "nightmare."

The fourth is a par three 200-yarder against a prevailing wind. The oblong green is flanked by a pond and surrounded on all other sides by traps.

The 620-yard 17th will, Farrell says, produce a lot of "well-played" sixes. About 400 yards from the tee there is a half acre of sand and heather girdling the fairway. Beyond, the green is on a plateau, hemmed in by traps and mounds.

Baltusrol, it is evident, is well prepared for another of its famous "upsets."

mate those which resounded over Birmingham, Mich., in 1951 when he finished trucking up the Oakland Hills course.

One thing certain, the guy who wins this one at Baltusrol is going to have to be a precise driver and have a real putting touch. There's trouble galore for the errant wood shot and the greens are big and undulating.

Even without being toughened, Baltusrol had enough hazard in the past to take the shine off a lot of favorites. This is the fourth Open to be staged over its fairways and in each of the other three it was an outsider who finished on top.

Away back in 1903, Willie Anderson was thought to be about finished. But Willie won.

Then, in 1915 when the pros had things all their way just as they do today, an amateur named Jerry Travers picked up the marbles.

Nation's Fifth Oldest Links And in 1936, swarthy Tony Manero came storming out of nowhere to overpower the favorites and score his longest victory.

Baltusrol, fifth oldest course in the nation, can point to a number of other tournaments in which the favorites fell.

Consider the national amateurs which were played on the par 72 layout which now measures an extended 7,093 yards, closing with a pair of par fives which measure 620 and 545 yards respectively.

'Angel' to Go Free

A REPORT from the Geneva conference says the Vietnam rebels in Indochina will release nurse Genevieve de Galard-Ter-raube, the "angel" of Dienbienphu. She was stranded in the beleaguered fortress and was the only woman there when it finally fell. (International)

Mays Blasts Two Willie Mays drove in four runs with two homers and a single in the Giant triumph. His second homer after Don Mueller's double in the eighth delivered the tying and winning runs off Murry Dickson as reliever Hoyt Wilhelm struck out seven Athletics.

Grin struck out seven Athletics but walked six and three Philadelphia runs came as the result of bases on balls. Hank Bauer led the Yankees with two doubles and a single while Andy Carey and Gil McDougald each contributed a two-run single. After Alex Rodner was kayoed in the fourth, Camille Van Brabant and Ed Bartschy combined to hold the champs hitless for the final four innings, each pitching two blanks to the Yanks.

Monday's Star: Rookie Jim Davis, the Cub lefty, who made his first big league start a winning one with a seven-hit 6-2 victory over the Cardinals.

PLAYED Under Protest Dave was not alone in the midst of a clubhouse which prompted Card Manager Eddie Stanky to protest the outcome. The protest was lodged on conflicting umpire calls on a fly ball by Wally Moon in the fifth. After four straight singles by Ray Jablonksi, Tom Alston, Rip Repulski and Del Rice had produced one run and given Davis his only difficulty, Moon lined to Ralph Kree in left. Kree was ruled eventually caught the ball but not until a 15-minute delay had ended Umpire Hal Dixon ruled it a trapped ball and Umpire Tom Gorman called it a fair catch. The Cardinals hit a home run and single to drive in two Chicago runs.

Davis struck out four and had trouble only with Repulski who collected three of the seven St. Louis singles.

The Giants made it three victories in a row at Philadelphia with a 5-4 victory while the Pirates after losing four straight to the Dodgers finally beat them 5-2 with a four-hitter by Max Surkont. There were no other National League games scheduled. In the only American League game, the Yankees defeated the Athletics 7-3 on rookie Bob Cline's three-hitter.

Others who came through with victories in their first starts were Art Fowler of Cincinnati with a four-hitter over Chicago; Phil Pisoni of the Phillies who beat the Cardinals with an eight-hitter; Truman Cleveland of the Red Sox who needed relief help but still bested Washington 7-6, and three youngsters from Pittsburgh. They were George O'Donnell with an eight-hitter over the Giants, Bob Purkey with a nine hitter over the Cardinals and Jake Tines with a four-hitter against the Cubs.

TRAFFIC SOLUTION

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP) — Prof. Kent T. Healy of Yale University says the most inexpensive way of easing traffic congestion in cities is by making all downtown streets one-way and eliminating curb parking. The solution isn't being adopted because of political fireworks set off by businessmen who resent the restrictions, he added.

Building Main Roads of Concrete Will Save
Citizens Millions in Kentucky

Every citizen has a vital stake in building main roads that meet civil and defense traffic needs.

You want safe roads. You want roads of proved economy because you pay for them with license fees, gas and other motor vehicle taxes.

Most of the nation's main roads are concrete. Of the most heavily-traveled road sections in the U. S. 82 per cent is concrete. Some of this pavement has been resurfaced but it's the rigid concrete slab that still carries the load. Most heavily-traveled turnpikes also are concrete.

Kentucky's main roads should be built of concrete. It's the safest, most economical pavement.

Concrete's light color reflects up to four times more light than dark pavements. You see objects on the road sooner, thus get more time to slow down or stop. If you can't see, you can't be safe!

Concrete has a gritty surface texture that enables you to stop faster in emergencies without skidding, even in wet weather.

Concrete is free from hazardous ruts, washboard ripples and raveled edges.

Concrete is moderate in first cost yet can be designed accurately for any load—and will keep that load-carrying capacity for life. It costs less to maintain than other pavements, according to official state highway department records. It lasts longer; engineers now know how to build concrete roads that will serve for 50 to 100 years.

Moderate first cost + low maintenance expense + long life = low annual cost—or savings of millions of dollars for taxpayers.

Safety and economy. Two big reasons why all our main roads should be built of concrete.
